PART 4: POWER STRUCTURE ANALYSIS

HOW THE EDUCATION COMMITTEE ACTUALLY WORKS

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY CONTROL

11 Democrats vs. 8 Republicans = Total Democratic Control

What Democrats Control: 1. Committee Agenda - Chair Santos decides which bills get hearings 2. Hearing Schedule - When bills are heard (or ignored) 3. Committee Votes - 11-8 Democratic majority passes any bill they want 4. Bill Assignment - Which committee members work on which bills 5. Testimony - Who testifies and for how long 6. Committee Rules - Procedures and processes 7. Staff Direction - Research and analysis priorities

What Republicans CANNOT Do: 1. ✗ Block any bill from advancing (need 10 votes, only have 8) 2. ✗ Force hearings on bills Democrats don't want heard 3. ✗ Control committee agenda 4. ✗ Prevent Democrat bills from reaching House floor 5. ✗ Override Democratic decisions

What Republicans CAN Do: 1. ✓ Speak during hearings 2. ✓ Offer amendments (Democrats can reject them) 3. ✓ Vote "no" (doesn't stop bills) 4. ✓ Advocate publicly for constituents 5. ✓ Highlight concerns in debate

CHAIR SANTOS' EXTRAORDINARY POWER

27 Years of Accumulated Influence:

As Committee Chair since [year], Rep. Sharon Tomiko Santos has accumulated more power over Washington education policy than any other single legislator:

Institutional Knowledge: - Knows every procedural trick - Understands legislative history - Has decades of relationships - Knows which tactics work

Agenda Control: - Decides which bills get hearings - Can kill bills by never scheduling them - Can rush bills through quickly - Can delay bills indefinitely

Staff Direction: - Controls committee staff assignments - Directs research priorities - Manages bill analysis - Influences information flow

Leadership Relationships: - Close ties to House Democratic leadership - Influence on floor schedules - Input on caucus priorities - Mentor to newer Democrats

Media Access: - First call for education reporters - Sets narrative on education issues - Platform for messaging - Statewide name recognition

MOSES LAKE REPRESENTATION PROBLEM

None of the Leaders Represent Moses Lake:

Chair Santos (D-37): - Represents South Seattle (Beacon Hill, Rainier Valley) - Urban, progressive district - Very different from Moses Lake - Never elected by Moses Lake voters

Vice Chair Shavers (D-10): - Represents Island County (Whidbey Island) - Moderate suburban-rural district - Different demographics from Moses Lake

Ranking Republican Rude (R-16): - Represents Central Washington (includes Walla Walla, Yakima Valley) - BUT: Republicans control nothing, can't block bills

Only Moses Lake Connection: - Rep. Kristine Reeves (D-30) is Moses Lake native - BUT: She represents Federal Way, not Moses Lake - AND: She's a junior member with no leadership role - AND: She votes with Seattle Democrats on most issues

Result: Moses Lake schools are governed by education policy decided by: - Seattle and Puget Sound representatives - Representatives never elected by Moses Lake voters - Leadership that doesn't understand rural school challenges - Majority from urban districts with different values and priorities

VOTING BLOCS ANALYSIS

Solid Progressive Democrats (7 members): - Santos, Shavers, Bergquist, Ortiz-Self, Pollet, Scott, Stonier - 100% alignment on progressive education agenda - Strong teacher union ties - Support all mandates (LGBTQ+, ethnic studies, etc.)

Moderate Democrats (2 members): - Callan (business-friendly), Reeves (sometimes moderate) -

Generally vote with progressives but occasionally break ranks - More open to compromise - Still vote with majority 85%+ of time

New/Less Active Democrats (2 members): - Donaghy, Rule - Follow caucus leadership - Vote with majority

Solid Conservative Republicans (8 members): - All 8 Republicans vote consistently conservative - Oppose most Democratic education bills - Support parental rights, school choice - BUT: Cannot block anything (only 8 of 19 votes)

EFFECTIVE POWER RANKING

1. Rep. Sharon Tomiko Santos (D-37) - CHAIR - Most powerful individual - Controls committee completely - 27 years accumulated power

2. House Democratic Leadership - Sets overall agenda - Controls floor schedule - Decides committee priorities

3. Rep. Clyde Shavers (D-10) - VICE CHAIR - Second-in-command - Fills in for Santos - Growing influence

4. Progressive Democrat Bloc (7 members) - Reliable votes for progressive agenda - Strong influence on policy direction - Teacher union aligned

5. Moderate Democrats (2-3 members) - Occasional swing votes - Can influence details but not overall direction - Still vote with majority most times

6. Rep. Skyler Rude (R-16) - RANKING REPUBLICAN - Leads Republican minority - Platform for minority views - NO actual blocking power

7. Other Republicans (7 members) - Can speak and vote - Cannot prevent bills from advancing - Essentially powerless in current structure

8. Moses Lake Voters - NO representation in committee leadership - NO ability to influence committee direction - Governed by representatives from other districts

CURRENT SESSION PRIORITIES (2025-2026)

Democratic Priorities Likely to Advance: - Increased education funding - LGBTQ+ curriculum implementation - Ethnic studies expansion - Teacher compensation improvements - Early learning expansion

Republican Priorities Unlikely to Advance: - School choice/vouchers (dead on arrival) - Parental rights expansion (blocked by Democrats) - Charter school expansion (opposed by majority) - Curriculum mandate rollback (no chance)

Why? Democrats have 11-8 majority. They control everything. Republicans can speak but cannot stop anything.

CONCLUSION

Key Takeaways for Moses Lake Residents:

1. Democrats Control Everything: 11-8 majority means Republicans cannot block any legislation.
2. Seattle Runs Education: Chair Santos (Seattle) has more power over Moses Lake schools than anyone Moses Lake voters elected.
3. One Local Connection: Rep. Kristine Reeves is Moses Lake native, but she's junior member with no leadership role.
4. Rural Voice Minimal: Most members represent urban/suburban Puget Sound areas, not rural Eastern Washington.
5. Clean PDC Records (Mostly): 16 of 19 members have clean records. Rep. Scott (D) has worst record ($12,000 in fines).
6. Controversies Exist: Militia founder (Rep. Marshall), 35+ ethics complaints (Rep. McEntire), and PDC violations (Rep. Scott) documented with equal scrutiny.
